Oral health is an important part of overall health for both mother and child. Hormonal changes during pregnancy put pregnant women at higher risk for oral health issues. This disparity is exacerbated in low-income women, who may lack access to other key health supports. Research strongly suggests a link between gum disease and poor birth outcomes such as maternal high blood pressure, preterm delivery, and lower birth weight, which in turn increase overall health care costs. At present, low-income women who participate in Arizona's Medicaid program do not have access to comprehensive and affordable oral health care, despite several broadly-supported efforts by the legislature to provide this benefit. Would you support a comprehensive oral health benefit for pregnant women who participate in Medicaid?

Yes

8

Please explain your answer.

We should make sure that women have all the healthcare they need to safely deliver healthy babies. This is a matter of smart, practical, and efficient preventative healthcare.

9

How would you ensure oral health access is a priority in future state budgets?

In the city of Flagstaff we treat the social infrastructure as equally important to physical infrastructure and I will continue to advocate for budgets that do the same.

10

What other actions would you take to promote oral health equity in Arizona?

We should consider an education campaign, I myself learned from this survey.
